A 74-year old independent financial consultant had his right side completely paralysed. Despite undergoing treatment, he had suffered from 2 paralytic attacks in a period of 6 months, adversely affecting his cerebral circulation.

Our case analysis determined that he is a man of principles and a workaholic by nature. His story was of rags-to-riches. His daughter is married and well-settled; whereas, his son married later with the girl of his choice. However, the son favoured his wife and paid no attention to him. Eventually, he along with his wife estranged from his father. As he was unable to bear this grief, it resulted in his right side getting paralyzed.

With the appropriate homeopathic medicines prescribed by the Consulting Doctor at MindHeal Homeopathy, his attitude underwent a change and he became carefree and optimistic by nature. He hasn't suffered from any paralytic attacks till date. He has regained his fitness and energy and is back to his work.
